I. Course Description

Theater II is a full year course designed to reinforce what has been introduced in Theater I and to reinforce acting, speech, movement/dance and history based on Konstantin Stanislavski's Method for Actors from the Moscow Art Theater.

Acting II will continue the work and method of Konstantin Stanislavski and the reinforcement and development of the six Essential Lessons of the Stanislavski system: concentration, emotional recall, dramatic action, characterization, observation and rhythm. The preparation and participation in local, state, regional and national competitions will be required.

Voice II will reinforce the skills needed to produce proper sounds and the way the mechanism of the voice works. We will use the four basic steps in voice production: respiration, vibration, resonance and articulation. We will also develop, in conjunction with Movement for Actors, relaxation and body alignment principles needed for good vocal production. Students will be encouraged to participate in vocal/singing lessons and ensembles offered at PCTI.

Movement II will reinforce correct movement/dance principles needed in auditions and performances. The "Viewpoints" Technique developed by Landau/Rice will be the primary method used to develop and reinforce correct movement for actors. Beginning/Advanced dance technique in Ballet, Jazz and Broadway-style dance will be reinforced. Students are encouraged to audition and participate in the Dance Club.

Theater History II will focus on the major movements in Theater that have influenced contemporary theater. Contemporary Theater will be reinforced with discussion of the works of Williams, O'Neil, Lorca, Hellman, Miller and Albee. Broadway and The American Theater will be discussed in detail.

Play Production II is important for the beginning actor so that they are able to practice and use the acquired skills and concepts that are introduced and reinforced in Acting, Movement, Voice and History. Therefore, there will be a number of productions during the year that will enable the actor to demonstrate those skills. Students will be required to participate in these productions. Principles of make-up, costume, sound and lighting design will be introduced during the productions. Productions will include one-acts, staged readings, reader's theater, showcases and full-length plays and musicals.

Directing will allow the advanced theater students to choose, design and direct a one-act play of their choosing in conjunction with the instructor. Plays may be of any period in history, may be comedic or dramatic, may be a solo actor or may be a large cast. The play will be produced and will be presented for a grade as part of the work in class. The cast will be chosen from the class and while not required to direct, participation in this project is required of all students in the class.

Standard 1.3 Performing: All students will synthesize skills, media, methods, and technologies that are appropriate to creating, performing, and/or presenting works of art in dance, music, theatre, and visual art.

1.3.12. C.1 Effective scripted and improvisational performances require informed, supported, and sustained choices by actors, directors, and designers. Theatre genres are created by combining complex narrative structures, technical theatrical elements, and thematic intent. Create plays that include well-structured plots and subplots, clear thematic intent, original characters, and technical theatrical elements appropriate to a variety of theatrical genres.

1.3.12. C.2 Presentation of believable, multidimensional characters in scripted and improvised performances requires application of specific physical choices, sustained vocal technique, and clearly motivated actions. Create and evaluate performances by citing evidence of specific physical choices, sustained vocal technique, and clearly motivated actions.

1.3.12. A.3 Dance artistry is achieved through refined technique, musicality, clarity of choreographic intent, stylistic nuance, and application of proper body mechanics. Demonstrate dance artistry with technical proficiency, musicality, stylistic nuance, clarity of choreographic intent, and efficiency of movement through the application of proper body mechanics.

1.3.12. A.4 Dance production is collaborative and requires choreographic, technological, design, and performance skill. Collaborate in the design and production of dances that use choreographic structures and incorporate various media and/or technologies.

Standard 1.4 Aesthetic Responses & Critique Methodologies: All students will demonstrate and apply an understanding of arts philosophies, judgment, and analysis to works of art in dance, music, theatre, and visual art.

1.4.12. A.1 Recognition of fundamental elements within various arts disciplines (dance, music, theatre, and visual art) is dependent on the ability to decipher cultural implications embedded in artworks. Use contextual clues to differentiate between unique and common properties and to discern the cultural implications of works of dance, music, theatre, and visual art.

1.4.12. A.2 Contextual clues within artworks often reveal artistic intent, enabling the viewer to hypothesize the artist's concept. Speculate on the artist's intent, using discipline-specific arts terminology and citing embedded clues to substantiate the hypothesis.

1.4.12. A.3 Artistic styles, trends, movements, and historical responses to various genres of art evolve over time. Develop informed personal responses to an assortment of artworks across the four arts disciplines (dance, music, theatre, and visual art), using historical significance, craftsmanship, cultural context, and originality as criteria for assigning value to the works.

1.4.12. A.4 Criteria for assessing the historical significance, craftsmanship, cultural context, and originality of art are often expressed in qualitative, discipline-specific arts terminology. Evaluate how exposure to various cultures influences individual, emotional, intellectual, and kinesthetic responses to artwork.

1.4.12. B.1 Archetypal subject matter exists in all cultures and is embodied in the formal and informal aspects of art. Formulate criteria for arts evaluation using the principles of positive critique and observation of the elements of art and principles of design, and use the criteria to evaluate works of dance, music, theatre, visual, and multimedia artwork from diverse cultural contexts and historical eras.

1.4.12. B.2 The cohesiveness of a work of art and its ability to communicate a theme or narrative can be directly affected by the artist's technical proficiency as well as by the manner and physical context in which it is performed or shown. Evaluate how an artist's technical proficiency may affect the creation or presentation of a work of art, as well as how the context in which a work is performed or shown may impact perceptions of its significance/meaning.

1.4.12. B.3 Art and art-making reflect and affect the role of technology in a global society. Determine the role of art and art-making in a global society by analyzing the influence of technology on the visual, performing, and multimedia arts for consumers, creators, and performers around the world.

9.3.12. AR-PRF.1 Describe the scope of the Performing Arts Career pathway and the roles of various individuals in it.

9.3.12. AR-PRF.2 Demonstrate the fundamentals elements, techniques, principles and processes of various dance styles and traditions.

9.3.12. AR-PRF.3 Perform a varied repertoire of vocal and / or instrumental music representing diverse styles, cultures and historical periods.

9.3.12. AR-PRF.4 Demonstrate knowledge of music theory.

9.3.12. AR-PRF.5 Explain key issues affecting the creation of characters, acting skills and roles.

9.3.12. AR-PRF.6 Create stage, film, television or electronic media scripts in a variety of traditional and current formats.

9.3.12. AR-PRF.7 Describe how technology and technical support enhance performing arts production.

9.3.12. AR-PRF.8 Analyze all facets of stage and performing arts production management.

- 1.4.12. A.2 Contextual clues within artworks often reveal artistic intent, enabling the viewer to hypothesize the artist’s concept. Speculate on the artist’s intent, using discipline-specific arts terminology and citing embedded clues to substantiate the hypothesis.
- 1.4.12. A.3 Artistic styles, trends, movements, and historical responses to various genres of art evolve over time. Develop informed personal responses to an assortment of artworks across the four arts disciplines (dance, music, theatre, and visual art), using historical significance, craftsmanship, cultural context, and originality as criteria for assigning value to the works.
- 1.4.12. A.4 Criteria for assessing the historical significance, craftsmanship, cultural context, and originality of art are often expressed in qualitative, discipline-specific arts terminology. Evaluate how exposure to various cultures influences individual, emotional, intellectual, and kinesthetic responses to artwork.
- 1.4.12. B.1 Archetypal subject matter exists in all cultures and is embodied in the formal and informal aspects of art. Formulate criteria for arts evaluation using the principles of positive critique and observation of the elements of art and principles of design, and use the criteria to evaluate works of dance, music, theatre, visual, and multimedia artwork from diverse cultural contexts and historical eras.
- 1.4.12. B.2 The cohesiveness of a work of art and its ability to communicate a theme or narrative can be directly affected by the artist’s technical proficiency as well as by the manner and physical context in which it is performed or shown. Evaluate how an artist’s technical proficiency may affect the creation or presentation of a work of art, as well as how the context in which a work is performed or shown may impact perceptions of its significance/meaning.
- 1.4.12. B.3 Art and art making reflect and affect the role of technology in a global society. Determine the role of art and art making in a global society by analyzing the influence of technology on the visual, performing, and multimedia arts for consumers, creators, and performers around the world.
- 9.3.12. AR-PRF.1 Describe the scope of the Performing Arts Career pathway and the roles of the various individuals in it.
- 9.3.12. AR-PRF.2 Demonstrate the fundamentals elements, techniques, principles and processes of various dance styles and traditions.

Proficiency: Analyze examples of theatre's influence on history and history's influence on Theatre in Western and non-Western theatre traditions.

1.1.12. C.2 Characters have physical, emotional, and social dimensions that can be communicated through the application of acting techniques. Formulate a process of script analysis to identify how the physical, emotional, and social dimensions of a character are communicated through the application of acting techniques.

1.1.12. C.3 Theatre production is an art, but it is also a science requiring knowledge of safety procedures, materials, technology, and construction techniques. Apply the basic physical and chemical properties (e.g., light, electricity, color, paint, scenic construction, costumes, makeup, and audio components) inherent in technical theatre to safely implement theatre design.

1.1.12. A.1 Creating master works in dance requires ability to comprehend, articulate, and manipulate time, space, and energy across and within a broad spectrum of choreographic structures and through the use of many choreographic devices. Articulate understanding of choreographic structures or forms (e.g., palindrome, theme and variation, rondo, retrograde, inversion, narrative, and accumulation) in master works of dance

Standard 1.3 Performing: All students will synthesize skills, media, methods, and technologies that are appropriate to creating, performing, and/or presenting works of art in dance, music, theatre, and visual art.

1.3.12. C.1 Effective scripted and improvisational performances require informed, supported, and sustained choices by actors, directors, and designers. Theatre genres are created by combining complex narrative structures, technical theatrical elements, and thematic intent. Create plays that include well-structured plots and subplots, clear thematic intent, original characters, and technical theatrical elements appropriate to a variety of theatrical genre

1.3.12. C.2 Presentation of believable, multidimensional characters in scripted and improvised performances requires application of specific physical choices, sustained vocal technique, and clearly motivated actions. Create and evaluate performances by citing evidence of specific physical choices, sustained vocal technique, and clearly motivated actions.

1.3.12. A.3 Dance artistry is achieved through refined technique, musicality, clarity of choreographic intent, stylistic nuance, and application of proper body mechanics. Demonstrate dance artistry with technical proficiency, musicality, stylistic nuance, clarity of choreographic intent, and efficiency of movement through the application of proper body mechanics.

1.3.12. A.4 Dance production is collaborative and requires choreographic, technological, design, and performance skill. Collaborate in the design and production of dances that use choreographic structures and incorporate various media and/or technologies.

VIII. Student Handout

Theater II

You will deepen and expand your ability to act, create a character and move freely in regards to acting on stage. We will focus on the correct technique for vocal production so that you will be clearly understood and heard on stage. You will study the method by Konstantin Stanislavski established at the Moscow Art Theater. You will participate in small and large theatrical production in the Black Box and on the Main Stage*. We will discuss the major periods in theater history and how they have influenced modern theater. We will analyze and discuss various scenes and full-length works to establish the author's intent, motivation and purpose. We will then interpret those works based on our knowledge of developing a character and relating the story to an audience. We will attend various performances and competitions throughout the year.

Participation in after-school rehearsals and performances are required. You must audition for all school-based performances.*

By the end of this year, you will be able to:

Understand the relationship between director and actor.

Perform various scenes and plays from memory in front of an audience.

Utilize the various techniques in acting, voice and movement to portray a realistic character in a performed work.
